To Whom It May Concern:

It is with great pleasure I write on behalf of Bruce Klinger, First Choice Consulting, and his continuous dedication to the chemical analysis field.

We first met Bruce several years ago through a colleague of ours that was utilizing Bruce's services when he owned and operated AnaCon Labs. We kept hearing how Bruce was able to diagnose complex chemical related issues with pinpoint accuracy.

As our frustration continued to mount with our challenges relating to chemical analysis and not having anybody on our staff with the proper competencies, we too turned to Bruce.

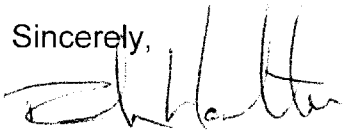

It was simply remarkable what transpired when we turned to Bruce for help. He not only diagnosed the issues we presented to him, he educated us along the way. Bruce didn't just tell what the problem was; he told us why there was a problem in the first place and how to prevent them in the future.

Over the years we have relied on Bruce more than ever to diagnose chemical related issues as well as corrosion, physical, and metallurgical testing needs. Bruce has always been available to help and has been a tremendous asset to our company.

Over the years our relationship with Bruce has grown and he has become one of our primary "go to" people when the need arises.

If we can be of assistance, please feel free to give us a call

Sincerely,

Rich Hamilton
